Summary

I build things that work.

From audio design and indie games to Slack bots, travel tech, and systems that run teams, I've always been obsessed with removing friction and empowering people to move faster.

My journey started in music and sound design, moved through education, and exploded into the operational + product world -where I now lead large-scale systems and automate chaos.

But I'm not just here to operate.

I'm here to create real tools, teach others how to escape mediocrity, and reshape the landscape for creatives who want to become builders.

- Slack Bots | Ops Automation | Travel Tech | Creator Tools
- Mission: Make tech feel powerful, clean, human.
- Based in Greece & building for the world.
